

About Loyola College of Social Sciences (Autonomous)

Founded in 1963 by Jesuit visionary Fr. Joseph Edamaram, Loyola College of Social Sciences is part of the Global Network of Jesuit Higher Education and is run by the Kerala Jesuit Society. Rooted in the Ignatian vision, Loyola promotes values of competence, conscience, compassion, and commitment. Inspired by St. Ignatius of Loyola's belief that "the well-being of the whole world depends upon the education of the youth," the college continues to be a catalyst for social transformation in Kerala.
